TRADE TRIP TO GUYANA MAY RESULT IN IMPROVEMENTS TO BVI AGRICULTURE AND FISHING

Dr. Karl Dawson, Junior Minister for Agriculture, has signaled that the government is earnestly weighing the introduction of an innovative shrimp project in the Virgin Islands.

This courageous undertaking might hold extensive advantages for both the local financial landscape and the broader agriculture sector, provided the initiative proves successful.

Discussion of the fish project arises following a triumphant trade mission to Guyana. During this mission, government figures and principal participants were given priceless understanding into the vibrant agricultural industry of the host nation.

On the recent trade trip to Guyana, those representing the government and other interested entities were given the chance to examine more closely the agricultural scene within the country.

Dr. Dawson believes the initiative carries significant potential for the Territory and is in harmony with the STEM education policy put forth by Education Minister Sharie de Castro.

However, the Junior Minister emphasized that the project is still in its infancy, and the government's involvement may be less pronounced than usual.

"I would say that if we go with that project, we do not see it as a government project, but trying to connect private sector individuals with... investors, the government will have a role, but it's very much in the infancy, very much in the discussion phase," he declared.

Hon. Dawson also remarked that an increased fraction of human protein consumption will be derived from seafood in the future. Hence, it's essential for those in the Territory to persist in reinforcing wild fishing. Nevertheless, he also emphasized the necessity of considering the best practices in aquaculture while this is being evaluated.

TRADE TRIP TO GUYANA MAY RESULT IN IMPROVEMENTS...from page 1

In a press briefing on 15 August the Junior Minister of Agriculture reflected on the recent trade mission to Guyana, sharing insights and lessons drawn from the visit. Hon. Dawson began by saying: "I am very grateful that the Deputy Premier considered including me in my capacity as Junior Minister for Agriculture and Fisheries for this journey. It aligns perfectly with our governmental trust to propel both agriculture and fisheries, focusing on enhancing production in these sectors in the forthcoming years."

He continued: "Guyana boasts an admirable and flourishing heritage in agricultural practices, offering lessons and the possibility of fruitful collaborations."

As such Hon. Dawson explained that his primary objective during the trip was to establish connections with agricultural government officials, related agencies, educational institutions, and private sector figures. He expressed satisfaction that this was achieved through various meetings and visits to agricultural entities in Guyana, where he found a warm reception. The Junior Agriculture Minister said: "We view technical support and cooperation as paramount outcomes from this mission."

BVICC REBRANDING UNDERSCORES ITS DETERMINATION TO BOOST BUSINESS

On 22 August the BVI Chamber of Commerce and Hotel Association marked an important transition, unveiling its rebranded identity as the BVI Chamber of Commerce (BVI CC), a critical moment in the organization's history.

The event was honored by the attendance of Premier Dr. the Hon. Natalio Wheatley and Deputy Premier Hon. Lorna Smith, both of whom offered words of commendation.

The Chairman of the Board of Directors, Shaina Smith-Archer, opened the event with an acknowledgment of the enduring support the organization has garnered throughout its existence.

"Business is inherent to our Virgin Islands heritage, where post-emancipation life was run by the local farmer, fishermen and other small businesses that supported our ancestors' survival. We must never take for granted our humble social and economic beginnings that were fostered through innovation to create opportunities," she asserted.

Smith-Archer then reflected on the BVI CC's 54-year tradition, underscoring its firm resolve to boost business evolution via advocacy, educational workshops, and cornerstone programs like the Junior Achievement Programme and National Culinary Team Programme.

She further elaborated on the reasoning for the rebranding, stating that the board seized an opportunity in 2022 to fortify the organization, streamlining its advocacy for the small business domain by splitting into the Chamber of Commerce and the Yachting Hotel and Tourism Association.

Premier Wheatley weighed in on the occasion, accentuating the vital function of the private sector within the BVI's economic framework and acknowledging the intertwined relationship between a robust business community and the broader economic vitality.

He conveyed his government's willingness to partner with the Chamber of Commerce, expressing specific interest in forward-thinking initiatives such as apprenticeship programs and policies favorable to business, like the government's RATED programme.

Dr. Wheatley also voiced his alignment with the Chamber's concerns about bureaucratic barriers, pledging to the attendees that his administration is engaged in ongoing initiatives to simplify services and mitigate the challenges encountered by businesses.

He additionally welcomed the Chamber's insights into enhancing these initiatives, reflecting a shared aspiration to foster an environment conducive to business.

Be SMART
when using Liquid Petroleum Gas (LPG) most commonly used for cooking.

DO's

- Before using your LPG cylinder, check the valve and other joints to make sure there is no leakage
- Keep your cylinder in a vertical position with the valve on top
- Install cylinder at ground level on flat surface
- Replace rusty cylinders
- Keep cylinder away from electrical sources, air conditioners and switch boxes
- Ensure regulators to be used on cylinder are the same diameter as the cylinder valve
- Check your lines once a year, many leaks are due to corrosion

DON'TS

- DO NOT ever install your cylinder near any heat source or exposed to sun, rain, dust and heat.
- DO NOT place cylinder inside a closed compartment.
- DO NOT fill up above the 85% fill mark. You must leave 'dead space' to allow for the expansion of LPG from liquid state to gaseous.

IMPORTANT NOTE IN CASE OF LEAKAGE

- Open all doors and windows.
- Turn OFF the regulator.
- Call a qualified inspector.
- DO NOT switch ON/OFF any electrical equipment inside the house.
- DO NOT light matches, lighter or stove.

PARAQUITA BAY SITUATION NEEDS PROMPT AND SERIOUS REFORM

The possibility of evicting long-term farmers from the government-controlled plots at Paraquita Bay due to a lack of evidence supporting active production is coming into focus once more.

On this occasion, the matter was emphasized by First District Representative and Junior Minister for Agriculture, Dr. Karl Dawson. During a press conference on 15 August, he discussed the subject with journalists.

“There was a committee established to look at the question of the [Paraquita Bay] estate, if you will, because, you know, we have a situation where, aside from the issues concerning water, you have various persons assigned — some of them in a very loose way — to various plots,” Dr. Dawson elaborated.

He went on to say that some of these plots are not yielding any produce at the moment, and the government is eager to make sure that only those who are truly committed to farming will have access to them.

The Junior Minister further clarified that there is a number of individuals who have expressed a keen interest in farming and have applied for farmlands but currently need the land to proceed.

Dr. Dawson also noted that a report from the committee assessing the situation will soon be delivered to the government, and deliberations will take place on the best course of action for implementation.

PREMIER CONCERNED ABOUT PARAQUITA LAND USE

While the Junior Minister of Agriculture is concerned that some farmers are not planting, Premier Natalio Wheatley is unhappy about reports that persons were residing on the farmlands.

The BVI Leader announced at the start of the year during a press conference on 23 January in response to disclosures that expatriates were living on the farmlands at Paraquita that changes must be made.

The Premier said that the matter of the squatters came to his attention and steps are being taken to remove them from the land and have the land remain for farming only. Hon. Wheatley told reporters that in a recent conversation with persons from the Ministry and Department of Agriculture he asked that the matter be dealt with.

Premier Wheatley said: “One of the tasks I gave them was being able to come up with standard leases. For everybody who on Paraquita Bay, and everybody who has a standard lease for the land they have to adhere to the conditions of that lease. One of those conditions is that it has to be used for agricultural purposes. No squatting, whatsoever, will be tolerated.”

MAYNARDS AND FAHIE’S SENTENCING POSTPONED TO JANUARY 2024

The sentencing of Oleanvine Pickering Maynard, the former Managing-Director of the BVI Ports Authority-(BVIPA), has been postponed, and the decision is now anticipated to be made in January 2024.

Maynard, - along with her son, Kadeem Maynard, - confessed to being part of a drug and money laundering operation, which led to the apprehension of former Premier Andrew Fahie.

Fahie, however, has steadfastly-proclaimed his innocence since his arrest in April 2022 and continues to reside in Florida at his daughters’ residence, under a million-dollar bond.

The mother and son pleaded guilty to a single charge of conspiring to import cocaine and have pledged to fully cooperate with the prosecution in hopes of receiving a more lenient sentence from the court.

Maynard was supposed to receive information about her impending penalty on Monday, 21 August, including whether the mandatory 10-year prison term suggested by the prosecution would be enforced.

However, a notice on the court’s docket yesterday announced that Maynard’s sentencing hearing has been rescheduled for 18 January, 2024, in a Miami Division Court under Judge Kathleen Williams.

Kadeem Maynard is also slated to have a sentencing hearing next Monday, but it’s uncertain whether this will be postponed as well. His lawyers have submitted several documents to the court ahead of the hearing, vigorously opposing the prosecution’s suggested 11 to 14-year sentence.

The younger Maynard has contended that his substantial collaboration with prosecutors and his admission of guilt, “among other things,” should merit a much milder sentence, possibly within the five to seven-year range or even potential probation, thus possibly sidestepping incarceration entirely.

Meanwhile, Fahie’s trial is scheduled to commence on 8 January, 2024, following a sequence of postponements. These delays - are mostly attributable to the enormous volume of evidence that the prosecution has found difficult to disclose to Fahie’s defense team.

Senior Caribbean Squash Championships -

The BVI is represented by a team of 4 female players and 2 male players at the 2023 Senior Caribbean Squash Championships held in Cayman, August 20-27.

aBVI number 1 seed, Zoe Sorrentino is joined by Natalie Fay, Mandi Attack and Laure Wigglesworth, who make up the ladies' team and Adam Murrills and Winston Findlay compete in the Men's individuals.

While originally the players were all intended to play in the individual competitions, due to flight delays, only Natalie, who had arrived earlier, was able to compete in the female categories. Facing a tough challenge, she lost her match against Michaela Rensburg of Cayman, 11-3, 11-3, 11-4.

BVI national coach, Adam Murrills competed in the Men's Individuals, progressing to the quarterfinals where he lost to the Cayman coach, Julien Jervis, in a hard fought 4 games, 11-8, 8-11, 6-11, 5-11.

The Women's Team Event will be played out as a Round Robin in which all the teams will play each other once. The countries involved are Guyana, Barbados, Jamaica, Trinidad and Tobago, the hosts Cayman Islands and BVI.

In the first match of the team event Team BVI competed against the ever strong Barbados team.

The BVI team comprised of National Champion Zoe Sorrentino at number 1, Natalie Fay at number 2, and then at 3 and 4, making their debuts at the Caribbean Championships, Mandi Attack and Laure-Astrid Wigglesworth.

"Women's Squash has been growing over the past 24 months on Tortola and it's great to see these ladies stepping out of their comfort zones to compete internationally for the BVI," said Coach Murrills.

The Barbados team is very solid and, at number 1, has the new Caribbean Champion Margot Prow. Zoe competed well, however Margot's class was too much and she won the match 3-0.

Natalie, Mandi and Laure all put in strong performances, however the Barbados ladies were just too strong and closed out all the matches 3-0.

The BVI players showed great spirit in chasing down every ball and fighting for every point and can be proud of their performances.

Competition will undoubtedly be stiff over the next few days however the team is focused on performing to its highest capabilities in an attempt to make life as difficult as possible for their upcoming opponents!

Today the BVI faces Jamaica in the morning and Guyana at 7pm.

Winston Findlay plays in the Over 60's Individual Competition. Winston has been representing the BVI around the Caribbean for many years and is no stranger to the Championships. The Over 60's will - like the Women's Team Event - be played out as a round robin. On Wednesday night, Winston started his campaign against Chris Brickell of Jamaica. It should be noted that Winston is in fact 71 years old and therefore is giving up around 10 years to most of his competitors. Chris managed to make his age advantage count tonight and cleverly moved Winston around the court. Winston fought well and found some tricky winners, however he ultimately succumbed 3-0 in a well contested match.

Winston next plays Thursday evening at 5.30pm against Barbados.

Premier Wheatley thanked the Minister for Communications and Works, Honourable Kye Rymer and his team for their efforts in planning and executing the visioning exercise as well as stressed the importance of investing in the Virgin Islands' tourism product. He said, "When we look to the expansion of our economy, we have to look towards tourism, and certainly this government and whenever I have the opportunity, I speak to the fact that we have to develop tourism and invest more in tourism."

He added, "It is ultimately going to be our efforts. The efforts of ourselves which will lead to the expansion and strengthening of our tourism product and economy overall. So we cannot take a passive approach that if they want to come they will come. We have to put ourselves in the best possible position for our economy to grow and to develop. One of the major things that our grandchildren and great-grandchildren will thank us for is expanding this runway."

Honourable Rymer thanked the stakeholders and industry partners for attending the visioning meeting and stated that his ministry is well underway in contacting the relevant authorities that will be crucial in the expansion of the airport.

He said, "I know these conversations wouldn't be the first for some of you.

But after being given the mandate of extending the runway publicly, I thought it was important that we have this dialogue and engage the stakeholders on how to move forward with the airport expansion. Within the ministry, I want to acknowledge the Permanent Secretary as well and all the work that she has started doing in terms of this airport expansion. We have already engaged the Attorney General's chambers and other stakeholders in terms of moving this project forward. But it's time for us to get to the wider populace so that we can further these discussions."

The Ministry of Communications and Works continues to ensure the continued development and maintenance of public infrastructure in keeping with international standards so that the infrastructures are in support of an enhanced community life for every resident and visitor in the Virgin Islands.

GLOBAL NEWS BRIEF

STORIES SELECTED BY GIORGIO MIGLIAVACCA

USA - Donald Trump has been bombarding his supporters with emails. In one sent last week Friday, he accused prosecutor Fani Willis, who issued the fourth indictment against the former president last week Monday, of persecuting him to gain popularity and raise money for her own re-election campaign as district attorney. Interestingly, after those criticisms, at the end of the same message, Trump himself passed the hat. His email included multiple links to make donations, suggesting amounts ranging from $1 to $250. The billionaire former president is using the money he has been receiving from citizens as political donations to pay tens of millions of dollars in legal fees, according to documents filed with election authorities.

Trump's practice was the subject of attention from members of the House committee investigating the January 6, 2021 assault on the Capitol. Their thesis was that the former president asked for money from small contributors to combat an alleged electoral rigging that he knew was a hoax and could therefore constitute fraud — even more so considering that the money was not used for the promised purposes. Trump's appeal to alleged election rigging was a "marketing tactic," his campaign's head of digital advertising admitted before the commission. "It wasn't just the Big Lie, it was the Big Scam," said Zoe Lofgren, a Republican member of the committee.

Special Counsel Jack Smith, who has charged Trump with four federal crimes for his attempt to subvert the outcome of the 2020 election, also investigated the source and destination of the money and messaging used to raise funds, but ultimately did not include any such charges in his indictment.

It can be inferred that even if Trump's conduct was ethically questionable and on the fringes of legality, Smith has not been able to make a strong case about donation fraud to bring before a jury, at least for the time being. [El Pais]

UKRAINE - President Volodymyr Zelensky on Sunday hailed a visit to the Netherlands a "historic" decision to supply F-16 fighter jets to strengthen Ukraine's Soviet-era air force.

It came two days after the United States approved the transfer to Ukraine of Dutch as well as Danish U.S.-made warplanes, a key demand by Kyiv as it seeks greater firepower from allies during a grinding counteroffensive against Russia.

Zelensky landed at a Dutch airforce base in Eindhoven at around midday (10:00 GMT), a Dutch government spokesperson told AFP, and inspected the aircraft shortly after. [Moscow Times]

ITALY - Neither the criticisms nor the removal from command of the Military Geographical Institute of Florence made him change his mind. General Roberto Vannacci, who ended up in the storm after the publication of his self-produced book, "The world upside down", does not reveal any hesitation: "I don't see why I should take a step back for a book where I freely express and manifest my thoughts. Freedom of speech is guaranteed by the Constitution and I deal with matters in the public domain. I fight the single thought", he says regarding the criticisms for the positions taken against the LGBTQ+ community, foreigners, environmentalists.

And he also adds: «I may be criticized that the tones are strong tones, but the strong tone of a book is one that is probably written to also arouse a certain interest on the part of the reader». Roberto Vannacci doesn't even make a fuss about the phrase about the volleyball player Paola Egonu, whose "physical features don't represent Italianness": "I don't see why he should apologize for an expression that isn't offensive. I said something that is obvious."

The general, on the other hand, is more aloof with respect to the decision of the Italian Army General Staff to remove him from the command of the Military Geographical Institute, but lets it be understood that he will not give up fighting. [Corriere della Sera]

MEXICO - Hurricane Hilary was downgraded to a weakened but dangerous Category 1 storm as it hurtled toward Mexico's Pacific coast and California on Sunday.

The US National Weather Service warned it was still likely to bring "catastrophic and life-threatening" flooding to northwestern Mexico as well as southern California, where it will be the first such tropical storm in 84 years

The storm still sustained wind speeds of up to 90 miles per hour (145 kilometers per hour).

"Heavy rains" were also affecting portions of Baja California and the southwestern United States.

As Hilary pummeled Mexico's Baja California peninsula with rain, one person drowned in the town of Santa Rosalia when their vehicle was swept away by an overflowing stream.

Rescue workers managed to save four other people around the nearby township of Mulege. [Deutsche Welle]

JAMAICA - As Jamaica commemorates its 61st year of independence in 2023, Jamaicans both home and throughout the diaspora are encouraged to both celebrate and reflect on this year's independence theme: 'Jamaica 61... Proud and Strong.'

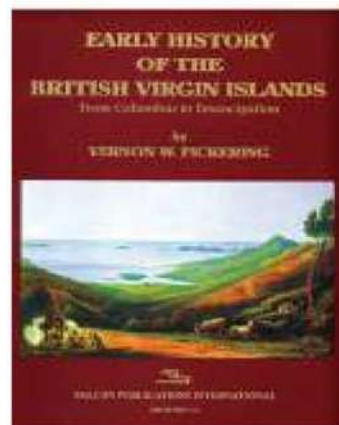

Consul General R. Mair underscored the significance of this year's theme, highlighting the nation's achievements despite numerous challenges. "We invite all Jamaicans to celebrate with pride the strength of our nation and of whom we are as a people," he said.

On August 5, 1962, the Union Jack flag was lowered and the flag of Jamaica was unfurled for the first time. The birth of an independent Jamaica was the most significant event in the nation's history.

Jamaica adopted its flag on August 6, 1962, the day it won its independence from the British. The flag consists of diagonal lines, which divides it into four triangles.

Jamaica, Land We Love, the national anthem of Jamaica, was the winning entrant of a competition that was held in 1961. It was set to music by Robert Lightbourne, and its lyrics were written by Hugh Sherlock. [CNW]

SANTO DOMINGO - The Minister of Tourism, David Collado, revealed that the Dominican Republic continues to reach unprecedented numbers in the tourism sector by registering the arrival of 792 981 non-residents in July of this year alone, making it the best month in the entire history of the country and surpassing July and December 2022, which had been until now the only months in which the government had managed to break the barrier of 700,000 tourists.

He reported that of the 792 981 tourists, 652,506 were foreigners and 140,475 Dominicans, representing a growth of 34% over 2019, 41% over 2021, and 8% over last year. He noted that in the January-July period, 1,416,011 cruise passengers arrived in the Dominican Republic, "something never seen before in the history of tourism."

"If we add the 792,981 tourists who arrived last month by air and the 148,560 visitors who arrived by sea, we are talking about 941,541 visitors. Something historic in the month of July," said Collado.

He also indicated that for the first time, the country registered the arrival of 6,295,667 visitors in the first seven months of the year. [Dominican Today]

NLBC announced completion of this year's crusade

On August 19th the New Life Baptist Church (NLBC) announced the completion of this year's crusade, a spiritual journey that was focused on reaching those who feel unreachable. The church's mission was to bring the word of God to places where hope and faith might seem distant. The results were nothing short of miraculous, and the church is excited to share how God moved in a powerful way.

The crusade began with a three-day mission at the local prison, where NLBC held open-air services. Pastor Joseph Benjamin, a guest minister, delivered a powerful word that resonated with the inmates and staff alike. The atmosphere was charged with faith, and the presence of God was palpable.

The impact of these services was profound, with 12 souls finding salvation. The joy and transformation witnessed were a testament to the power of faith and the relentless love of God. The church gives all glory to God for these incredible transformations.

Dear Readers: It's coming close to the start of School. Now is the time to get going with your Back-To-School Plans:

Make the unknown environment more familiar

If your children are worried about the fact that they will start school in a new environment such as having a new classroom or being taught by a new teacher ask the school if you can go on a tour. Let your child see the new classroom and ask if it is possible to meet the new teachers. Going on a tour will help the kids to become more familiar with the new place. It is also a good idea to have a conversation with them about all the positive aspects at school such as their favorite subject and the activities they love at school.

Prepare lunchboxes and keep them easy

Studies show that pupils who have breakfast function better at school and have more energy. In advance, ask your children about healthy food that they like to take to school. Maybe your child likes particular fruits or vegetables which you can pack as well as a healthy sandwich. You can also have a look at the school's cafeteria and see if it offers healthy snack options.

Talk about homework

Children who understand the topics at school properly have more fun at school. Usually, good quality homework is key to understand topics and achieve good grades. Review the environment where your child does his or her homework: Is it quiet enough? Is there enough space? Besides the environment, it is also important to think about activities and Internet or TV usage. Do your children have enough time to do their homework and are they not distracted?

Dear Ladybird: How are you? I am doing well, except that I have a sister, who has a problem, and I need your advise. My sister, whom I adore very much is an alcoholic. I am convinced of that. sometime when I visit her, she smells of alcohol, and when I ask her if she is drinking so early she would say we have one life to live and we better live it.. However, I spoke with her and told her that she is in denial, and I seriously believe she is. But she shrugs it off and so I decided to monitor her and see if I was over-reacting.

What can I do to help her admit and accept that she has a problem Want To Help!

Ladybird: Dear Want To Help: Thank goodness, your sister has someone like you who cares so much for her, and that you are willing to seek help. My suggestion is for you to get in touch with the AA Group locally and have a talk with them, they will advise you exactly what you should do. When you speak with your sister do not let her feel you are judging her, let her know you care, and that you would wish if you had a problem she would want to help you in any way possible.

Be prepared to go along with her if and when she has to attend special meetings. When you visit her, look around, see if she has any alcohol around the house and dispose of them, because if she has, she will be tempted to take a drink.

Moonlight 'Tis moonlight,
summer moonlight,
All soft and still and fair;
The solemn hour of

Breathes sweet thoughts

But most where trees are

Or stooping low are

Tickle My Funny Bones

Only those who catch my eye.

A man who lived in a block of apartments thought it was raining and put his head out the window to check. As he did so, a glass eye (contact) fell into his hand. He looked up to see where it came from just in time to notice a young woman looking down. "Is this yours?" he asked.

She said, "Yes, could you bring it up?" and the man agreed. On his arrival she was profuse in her thanks and offered the man a drink. Because she was very attractive, he agreed. Shortly afterward she said, "I'm about to have dinner--there's plenty. Would you like to join me?"

He readily accepted her offer and both enjoyed a lovely meal. As the evening was drawing to a close the lady said, "I've had a marvelous evening. Would you like to stay the night?" The man hesitated then said, "Do you act like this with every man you meet?" "No," she replied.

"Only those who catch my eye."

The final two days of the crusade were spent on the streets, specifically at Noel Lloyd Park, where open-air services were held. Pastor Benjamin continued to deliver timely and inspiring messages, touching the hearts of those who attended.

The park became a place of worship, fellowship, and spiritual awakening. People from all walks of life were drawn to the message, and the community was united in a shared experience of faith.

The success of this year's crusade would not have been possible without the hard work and dedication of the NLBC Evangelism team and Pastor Joseph Benjamin. Their commitment to working the vineyard and spreading the word of God has made a lasting impact in the British Virgin Islands (BVI).

Beyond the Bun: The

Irresistible Hamburger Salad

In the realm of delicious salads, here is a dish that marries the worlds of fast-food indulgence and garden-fresh goodness. Welcome to the Hamburger Salad -- a creation that tantalizes taste buds, ignites nostalgia and brings even the most devoted salad skeptics to the table.

Imagine the blend of flavors and textures; the crispy lettuce, loads of tangy dill pickles, the gentle bite of red onions, juicy tomatoes and the perfectly seasoned, pan-fried hamburger. This salad is the perfect homage to the beloved fast-food burger.

The secret ingredient that gives this salad the fast-food burger vibe is dehydrated minced onion. For this recipe you'll need 2 tablespoons of dehydrated onion, divided between the hamburger and dressing. You can rehydrate both together in 2 tablespoons of hot water at the same time and divide when called for in the recipe. Or you can use fresh onions, or a combination if you'd prefer.

Here's another reason to love this recipe. With just 1 pound of ground meat, the Hamburger Salad is a generous feast. This is frugal cooking that doesn't compromise on quality.

If you're really pinched for time, you can skip the croutons and use bottled thousand island dressing in place of the dressing recipe below.

HAMBURGER SALAD

Yield: 4 servings

Total Time: 30 minutes

Special Sauce Dressing, optional

1/3 cup mayonnaise

2 tablespoons ketchup

2 tablespoons yellow mustard

2 tablespoons dill pickle, finely minced

1 tablespoon dehydrated minced onion, rehydrated

1/4 teaspoon onion powder

1 tablespoon dill pickle juice

1/2 teaspoon sugar

Mix all dressing ingredients in a small bowl. Refrigerate for at least 20 minutes.

Sesame Croutons, optional

2 sesame seed hamburger buns, optional

Cooking spray

Garlic powder

A salad tribute to fast food burgers

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Cut each bun into 1/2-inch slices or cubes. Lightly spray with cooking spray and sprinkle with a little bit of garlic powder. Place the croutons on a baking sheet and bake for 5 minutes or until crisp.

The Burger

1 tablespoon olive oil

1 pound ground beef (85/15)

1 teaspoon onion powder

1 teaspoon garlic powder

1 tablespoon dehydrated minced onion, rehydrated

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/8 teaspoon pepper

Heat a large skillet over medium-high heat and add the olive oil. Once it's hot, add the ground beef, garlic powder, onion powder and dehydrated onion. Break the mixture into crumbles and cook until browned, about 7 minutes. Drain fat and season with salt and pepper. Remove from heat and set aside.

You can serve this salad with the beef hot or at room temperature, so you can make this ahead of time.

The Salad

1 head (8 cups) iceberg lettuce or romaine lettuce, chopped

1 cup dill pickles, chopped

1/2 cup red onion, thinly sliced

1 cup tomatoes, chopped

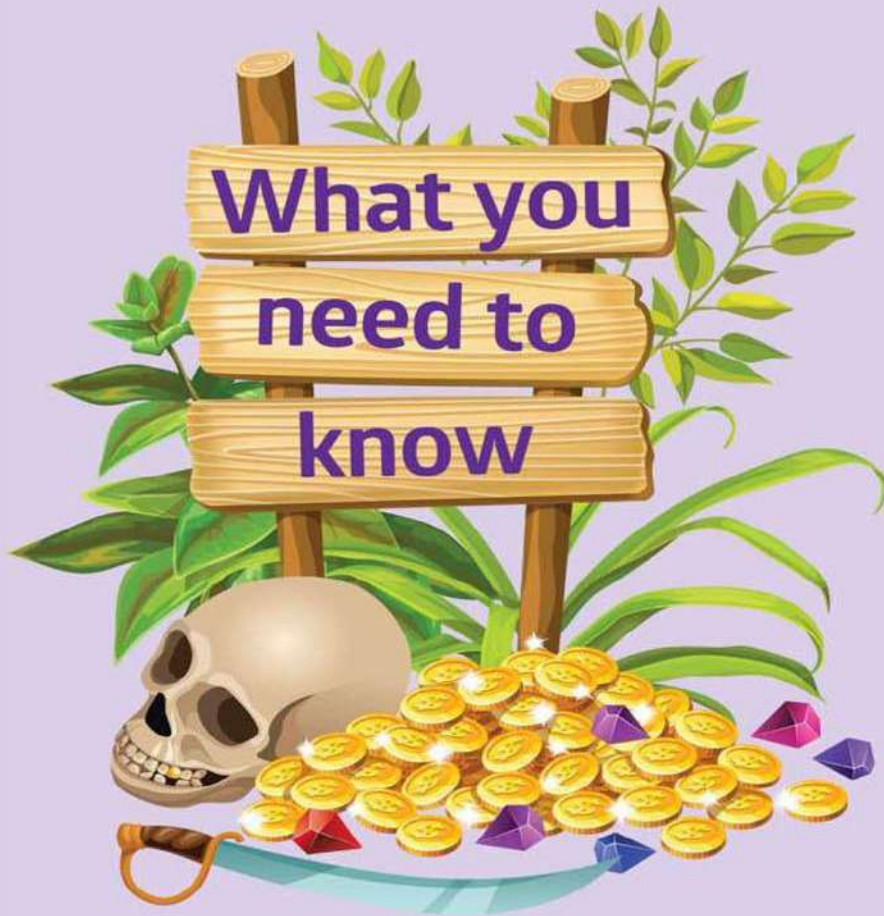

1 cup cheddar cheese, shredded

Place the lettuce on a cutting board and run your knife through it to chop it into pieces. Decide if you're going to plate this in individual servings or make one giant salad and serve family style. Either way, start with the lettuce (2 cups per serving) and drizzle lightly with salad dressing. Toss it well. Depending on how artsy you wish to be, compose the salad as desired. Place lettuce in each bowl. Top with beef, pickles, onions, tomatoes, cheese and croutons. Drizzle with the dressing and serve.

So, this summer, as the warm breezes come to an end (we hope!), the Hamburger Salad bridges the gap between classic comfort and feel-good freshness and is perfect for those last laidback alfresco dinners. It's the embodiment of simplicity -- hearty, yet refreshing; substantial, yet light. Enjoy!

Final Report and Recommendations of the ITA Caribbean Task Force

Recently, the U.S.-based Institute for Transnational Arbitration (ITA) published the “Final Report and Recommendations of the ITA Caribbean Task Force” (links below). It includes the Task Force’s conclusions and its recommendations on how the ITA can assist to develop and enhance arbitration in the Caribbean.

This will benefit not only the efficient and effective resolution of commercial disputes. Developing and enhancing arbitration in the Caribbean will benefit the economies of Caribbean countries by facilitating trade and commerce - nationally, regionally and internationally.

The Final Report recommends the following five “Initial ITA Priorities in and for the Caribbean”:

Capacity building in arbitration among legal practitioners throughout the Caribbean

Raising the profile of Caribbean arbitration in the Americas
Judicial education and training in arbitration

Assisting legal educators in the Caribbean to provide arbitration education and training

Modernizing arbitration laws in Caribbean countries that have not do so (BVI has a modern UNCITRAL Model Law arbitration law).

The Report focuses on what is happening in arbitration in the Caribbean, and the opportunities that exist as arbitration becomes more prominent in the region, and Caribbean arbitration practitioners become more active and prominent on the world stage.

As explained in the Report, there was broad consultation in ‘focus group meetings’ with a wide-range stakeholders throughout the Caribbean, including arbitrators, arbitration counsel (of different seniorities), Attorneys General and other national government ministers, academics and educators, and arbitration and other organizations and institutions.

The Task Force co-chairs are Hon. Barry Leon (BVI) and Calvin Hamilton (Barbados) and the deputy chair is Theominique Nottage (The Bahamas).

Among those participating in the Task Force and its consultation process from BVI were Arabella di Iorio (Agon Litigation), Hana Doumal (at the time, Registrar, BVI International Arbitration Centre, and a deputy chair of the Task Force), Dr. Jane Fedotova (Conyers), Shan Greer (now CEO & Registrar, BVI IAC), Francois Lassalle (at the time, CEO, BVI IAC), Dancia Penn, OBE KC (Dancia Penn & Co; Caribbean Arbitrators), and Jamal Smith (Thornton Smith).

Hon. Barry Leon

As the Report explains:

“ ... ITA desires to team up with Caribbean practitioners and organizations to support their initiatives, create opportunities and identify synergies. As we said to many of the people with whom we met, ITA is not looking to come to the Caribbean to tell people what to do or how to do it, but rather to support existing and new initiatives, and undertake initiatives (perhaps together with others) that practitioners and others in the Caribbean would like to pursue. Finally, we worked to build an understanding of and support for the roles that the America’s Initiative may be able to play in the development of arbitration in the Caribbean.”

The ITA and its Americas Initiative - through Calvin Hamilton, Hon. Barry Leon, and Theominique Nottage, as the Caribbean Task Force’s leaders - welcome thoughts on the Final Report and Recommendations, and on priorities and ideas for implementation.

The Americas Initiative of the ITA has enjoyed tremendous success over the past two decades in assisting with the development of arbitration in Latin America.

More recently it has added the other parts of The Americas to its focus - the Caribbean, with this Task Force to begin, and Canada, with an annual “ITA Conference on International Arbitration in the Mining Sector” in Toronto in March.

News of the release of the Final Report and Recommendations is on the ITA’s website: <https://www.cailaw.org/Institute-for-Transnational-Arbitration/Americas-Initiative/caribbean-task-force.html>.

The Final Report and Recommendations of the ITA Caribbean Task Force are available here: Microsoft Word - Caribbean Task Force Report^J 8 June 2023 - DRAFT^M CH comments - BL_TDN^M CH_BL (cailaw.org).

U.S. VIRGIN ISLANDS SHOWCASES VIBRANT CULTURE AT TORONTO CARIBBEAN CARNIVAL

U.S. - VIRGIN ISLANDS (August 7, 2023) - The U.S. Virgin Islands (USVI) entered the international carnival scene at the Toronto Caribbean Carnival as part of the Department of Tourism's ongoing cultural exchange partnerships to collaborate with various Caribbean and diaspora events. As one of North America's most celebrated Caribbean-themed events, Toronto Caribbean Carnival's grand parade serves as a spotlighted opportunity for members of the diaspora to showcase aspects of the collective cultures of the Greater and Lesser Antilles.

"We are thrilled to be a part of this phenomenal event! The city of Toronto has long had a deep connection to people from the Caribbean, and the Toronto Caribbean Carnival places a prominent spotlight on the wide-reaching influence of the region," said Joseph Boschulte, Commissioner of Tourism for the U.S. Virgin Islands. "Our participation underscores our commitment to fostering cultural exchange and showcasing the uniqueness of the U.S. Virgin Islands to an international audience."

The U.S. Virgin Islands-sponsored truck took on the streets of Toronto, featuring culture dancers and Moko Jumbies, who added a surprise element of excitement for participants and spectators as the Division of Festivals team passed out USVI-branded towels, hats, fans, and other gifts.

"This weekend, the U.S. Virgin Islands' delegation added an unforgettable dimension to the festivities," said Ian Turnbull, Director of the Division of Festivals. "Our cultural dancers and Moko Jumbies mesmerized the crowd, creating an immersive experience that exemplified the essence of the U.S. Virgin Islands and helped spread the word about the upcoming Crucian Christmas Festival."

Over a million tourists flocked to Toronto during the August long weekend, eager to immerse themselves in the dynamic essence of carnival culture.

The USVI Division of Festivals is preparing for the 71st Crucian Christmas Festival in St. Croix, scheduled from December 10, 2024, to January 6, 2025. This celebration promises a remarkable blend of traditions that define the unique charm of the U.S. Virgin Islands.

THE CARIBBEAN'S PREMIER RUM COMPETITION AND FESTIVAL

The best rums in the world are back in the heart of the French Caribbean for the sixth annual edition of the Caribbean Rum Awards St Barth.

This year's festival, which runs Oct. 31-Nov. 4, includes the world's most exclusive rum competition and a full slate of rum parties and experiences across the Caribbean's most glamorous island. It is presented by platinum sponsors WIMCO St Barth Properties and Tradewind Aviation.

"There is no rum event like this anywhere else in the world," said Alexander Britell, editor and publisher of Caribbean Journal and co-founder of the Caribbean Rum Awards St Barth. "Whether you are a rum connoisseur or are looking to begin your journey with ultra-premium rum and rhum agricole, this is a truly unforgettable week on the most luxurious island in the Caribbean."

This year's event kicks off with the Rhum Neisson VIP party at the rooftop bar at Le Barthelemy Resort and Spa, where Neisson will premiere its new Dekolaj rum.

"The Caribbean Rum Awards is the start of the season in St Barth," said Christopher Davis, world-renowned rum expert and co-founder of the Caribbean Rum Awards St Barth. "There will be functions at venues around St Barth, so get prepared to have some fun with all of the visiting rum royalty."

The rum is an unrivaled journey into the world of rum, particularly the sought-after rhum agricole of Martinique and Guadeloupe, drawing top producers from around the region to sample their finest expressions on the island.

The following day is the blind tasting competition, which sees nearly 100 rums judged across 8 categories by 10 of the world's premier rum judges, hosted at the legendary Rosewood Le Guanahani St. Barth resort.

That includes the competition's famous Uber-Premium categories, one for molasses rum and one for rhum agricole, which include fields of rums that retail for a minimum of $400 — the only rum categories of their kind in any global rum competition.

That night, Le Barthelemy will play host to its popular Caribbean Rum Party, featuring a selection of high-level rums from around the region.

Le Barthelemy will also host a rum pairing dinner at its celebrated Amis restaurant, along with a ti' punch pool party on the afternoon of Nov. 3.

Nov. 2 is the evening VIP ti' punch party at the Les Ilets de la Plage beach resort in St Jean.

Rosewood Le Guanahani will be hosting master classes on Nov. 2 and 3, along with evening rum tastings at its Bar Mélangé. Several other master classes will also be held at events around the island, including at the Diamond Genesis lounge. The ultra-luxe resort will also host a rum dinner at its Beach House St. Barth restaurant.

"St Barts is pleased to welcome the 6th annual edition of the Caribbean Rum Awards!" said Sabine Masegaglia, director of the Territorial Tourism Committee of St Barts. "This competition that celebrates the rum throughout the island, also launches the 2023/2024 season that already looks promising. May the connoisseurs and the neophytes enjoy what this beautiful event has to offer."

The weekend is when the Caribbean Rum Awards come to the heart of Gustavia, with Nov. 3-4 a rum expo right on the water in town, featuring local food, a cocktail competition and an unrivaled selection of rum distilleries at the edge of the harbor.

"It's only natural that St Barth should play host to a collection of the finest premium rums on earth," said Guy Britton, managing editor of Caribbean Journal.

Planning to visit the event? Plan your stay at the top villas in St Barth with WIMCO St Barth Properties, or reserve your hotel stay at Le Barthelemy or Rosewood Le Guanahani.

Leading villa rental company WIMCO St Barth Properties has created a generous booking incentive designed to build interest in travel to St Barts in early November in time for the event. WIMCO is providing a $500 credit toward a rental car for any villa rental reservation with a check in date on or before November 11.

It helps that low-season pricing is still in effect in early November.

"Early November is a great time to visit St Barts, the ocean is warm, the island is waking back up from its off season, and all the top restaurants and beach clubs are open. It's also home to two popular events, starting with the Caribbean Rum Awards, then followed by the Gourmet Festival," said WIMCO President and chief marketing officer Stiles Bennet.

"We are thrilled to join the Caribbean Rum Awards once again as a lead sponsor for the event in St Barth," said David Zipkin, Co-Founder and CMO at Tradewind Aviation. "The Rum Awards is the pre-eminent event for fine rums, drawing the best brands, connoisseurs, and visitors to our favorite island in the Caribbean."

Tradewind Aviation is the official airline of the Caribbean Rum Awards St Barth.

BIDEN HEADS TO G20, SENDS HARRIS TO ASEAN, EAST ASIA SUMMITS

FILE - President Joe Biden speaks during a news conference on the sidelines of the G20 summit in Bali, Indonesia, Nov. 14, 2022. The White House has announced that Biden will attend next month's Group of 20 summit in New Delhi, India.

WASHINGTON — President Joe Biden will attend the G20 Summit in New Delhi, India, but is skipping the U.S.-ASEAN and East Asia Summit in Jakarta, Indonesia, sending Vice President Kamala Harris instead, the White House announced Tuesday.

In a testament to the importance Biden places on Prime Minister Narendra Modi's government, Biden will be in India September 7-10, arriving two days ahead of the annual gathering of the leaders of the world's 20 largest economies. The heads of state and governments are set to begin their meetings on September 9 and 10. They are to discuss global issues including clean energy transition, mitigating the economic and social impacts of the war in Ukraine, and increasing the capacity of multilateral development banks.

While in New Delhi, Biden will reaffirm the U.S. commitment to the G20 as the premier forum for economic cooperation, including by hosting it in 2026, national security adviser Jake Sullivan told reporters during a briefing Tuesday.

The U.S.-ASEAN Summit caps high-level official meetings between the United States and the Association of Southeast Asian Nation (ASEAN) that U.S. Secretary of State Antony Blinken participated in last month. The East Asia Summit is a regional forum held annually by ASEAN. Its partners include the U.S., China and Russia.

China's influence

Sullivan pushed back against criticism that by not attending the meetings in person, Biden plays into the perception that the U.S. is ceding influence in the region to China. That is the same criticism aimed at the president in May when domestic negotiations on the debt ceiling forced him to cancel what would have been the first visit by an American president to Papua New Guinea.

"I would put our record of achievement and engagement in the Indo Pacific up against any American president (and) any other country in the world," Sullivan said to VOA during Tuesday's briefing.

He outlined Biden's engagements with regional leaders, including hosting a trilateral summit with South Korea and Japan last week, attending the G7 and the Quad Leaders' Summit in Hiroshima in May, and hosting the March AUKUS summit with leaders of Australia and the United Kingdom.

"He attended both the first East Asia Summit virtually and the East Asia Summit last year in person," Sullivan said. "He has sent his vice president to Southeast Asia twice, and this will be her third trip there making a substantial investment in ASEAN as an institution and in ASEAN centrality," he added, referring to the group's desire to be the main platform for the region's engagement with external powers.

The administration has indeed bolstered ties with key players in the Indo-Pacific, including Japan, South Korea, the Philippines, Australia, and India. All of them have been rewarded with face-to-face diplomacy with Biden — Japanese Prime Minister Fumio Kishida, South Korean President Yoon Suk Yeol, Philippines President Ferdinand Marcos Jr. and Indian Prime Minister Modi have all been on White House visits earlier this year. Australian Prime Minister Anthony Albanese is scheduled for a state visit in October.

"These countries all have one thing in common: They are balancing more openly against China," said Zack Cooper, a senior fellow at the American Enterprise Institute.

Biden skipping the East Asia and ASEAN summits suggests to the region that Washington is treating countries as falling into two tiers: those working with the U.S. to push back against China and those that prefer more autonomy, Cooper told VOA.

"The latter group will see this diplomatic move as suggesting that they are second-tier players from an American perspective," he said. "Putting Indonesia in that situation is a particularly strange decision, given that it is such a large and pivotal regional player." Biden may be aiming to add another country into the first tier — Vietnam. He is reportedly working on a deal to elevate the country with a strategic partnership that could mean increased military cooperation and U.S. weapons supplies.

The White House has not announced a Hanoi stop, but earlier this month, Biden said he will be visiting Vietnam shortly. Diplomatic sources who asked to remain anonymous because the visit has not been officially announced yet told VOA it is likely to happen on the heels of Biden's trip to New Delhi on September 10.

Not a great look'

Skipping summits with Southeast Asian leaders is "not a great look," said Gregory Polling, director of the Southeast Asia Program at the Center for Strategic and International Studies.

"But I think people can overstate the damage here,"

Polling told VOA. "I also don't think that Vice President Harris' attendance is a snub any more than the fact that [President] Xi Jinping won't be there is a snub."

Beijing usually sends its premier in place of Xi Jinping to the China-ASEAN and East Asia Summits.

Biden attended the U.S.-ASEAN and East Asia Summits in Phnom Penh last November before attending the G-20 Summit in Bali, Indonesia. From Bali, he flew home for a family wedding instead of attending the 2022 APEC (Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation) meeting in Bangkok, sending Harris in his place.

Harris visited Singapore and Vietnam in 2021. On the heels of her 2022 Bangkok trip, she made an unprecedented stop at Palawan Island in the Philippines that was seen as a rebuke to China. The tiny fishing community borders the Spratly Islands in the South China Sea, the center of a protracted dispute between China and nearby countries including the Philippines, Brunei, Vietnam and Malaysia.

Sullivan did not respond to questions about whether Harris is set to make a similar gesture during her visit to the region next week.

Kyron McMaster fulfills Samuels' prediction with World Championships silver

By Dean "The Sportsman" Greenaway

TRACK

Eight years and two Coaches later after his late Coach Dag Samuels predicted in Beijing in 2015 that his charge would win a 400m Hurdles World Athletics Championships medal, Kyron McMaster bagged silver in 47.34 seconds in Budapest, Hungary on Wednesday, to become the BVI's 1st World Sr. Championships medalist. McMaster's medal, the first outdoor medal since the BVI began competing in the championships in Helsinki, Finland 40 years ago in 1983, completes the territory's haul of medals in the World Athletics Series: Indoor, Youth, Junior and now Outdoor.

"My goal is to reach the podium," McMaster said after automatically advancing to the final. "I always come in fourth - in Tokyo, in 2019, and last year I was out due to injury. If I finish fourth again this year I might snatch a medal from somebody." This time he has his own.

It's McMaster's 2nd World Championships medal after grabbing World Jr. Championships Bronze in 2016.

Meanwhile, - A da e j a h Hodge—at 17 the youngest BVI participant ever in the World Athletics Championships—made her 200m debut and was edged out of an automatic qualifying spot, with a fourth-place finish in 22.82 seconds. After all the heats were completed, her time also qualified her for the semifinals.

"I'm very proud of myself being on the world stage as a 17-year old and I'm just focusing on what I have to work on for the semifinal," Hodge told Island Sun Sports, and she'll run from lane two. "Being able to see everybody helps me set up my race even better. I know I have to work extra hard coming out the blocks and then on the curve, since I'll be in the back in lane two. Whatever happens, I have nothing to lose. Might as well I leave it all on the track."

Rikkoi Brathwaite—the first BVI male athlete to compete in the World Indoor and Outdoor Championships—narrowly missed advancing to the 100m semifinals by .02 seconds. Brathwaite was fifth in his heat in 10.18 seconds.

"I came fifth by a very small margin and can't be upset with myself and I have to take it how it is. Everything was right, I just wasn't the man of the day then," he said. "I thank God for a healthy season, I had a phenomenal season. I dropped from 10.20 (seconds) to basically 9.9 so I can't complain."

Pirates eyeing Softball title defense, Synergy seeking sweep

By Dean "The Sportsman" Greenaway

SOFTBALL

Defending champions Pirates have their eyes on retaining the Virgin Islands Softball Baseball Association Men's Division crown against Power Outage, while Synergy is seeking their third straight Women's championship sweep against Sparks. The best of five series opens Friday at the E. Walwyn Brewley Softball Park.

The Pirates and Storm split the first two games of their best of three series 8-1, respectively, before the Pirates walked off 13-3 winners during Saturday night's deciding game. No stats were available from the game.

"I ain't glad we lost the last game, but it woke us up and gave us a sense of urgency and we actually went and worked out twice after that, just so everybody knew how urgent it is," Pirates manager Austin "Woody" Maduro told Island Sun Sports. "And we came prepared."

Maduro said winning pitcher Neville "Sheep" Smith gave up two runs they didn't expect to score in the first inning and they did not expect Storm's pitcher Allen "Woodrow" Smith to be so wild in his first inning trip on the mound. "We knew he (Sheep) would come back," Maduro said. "We thought Woodrow would come back too, but he didn't and our bats were ready."

Woodrow wasn't happy with the calls of plate umpire Darier Malone. "When I come to play, I prefer a fair fighting chance and if I get a fair fighting chance, the game will go better," he noted. "Everybody was watching the game. I don't be that wild. I wasn't that wild. My balls weren't missing like that. If we're going to play ball, give me a fair chance."

Sheep said it seemed that the mound was very loose and he thinks Woodrow had the same first inning problem. "The soil was very, very loose and don't care how you tried to dig it out, it wouldn't get hard," he explained. "So, I really couldn't get a footing, that's what happened to me in the first inning. No matter what I did, I couldn't adjust, but after I got most of the dirt out, I got a little more comfortable."

Can the Pirates defend the title against Power Outage, 12-8 winners over VG Heat? "Yeah man," Maduro said. "We will."

Defending champions Synergy will face newcomers Sparks after advancing when Lady Wings forfeited while the West End Warriors couldn't field enough players late in the game and forfeited to Sparks.

"I'm proud of Sparks," Manager Woodrow said. "Sparks is a new team coming into the league and they have started from scratch. We have people who haven't played in 10 years; people who can't catch, just learning to play and they made it to a championship in their first year. It's going to be a tall order, but we're going to try."

Sheep has managed Synergy to repeat championship sweeps. "I'm not taking anything for granted, I'm coming to win," he said. "I'm sorry, whoever it is—if my wotner comes to play against me—I'm going to play against her," he said. "Sparks is a team with good coaching and they don't really give up.

The team I have, I'm sorry. I don't see them winning a game. I mean that. I plan to give them three straight."

Defending champions Pirates will be pulling out all the stops to fend off Power Outage

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A relaxed mood early in the week could give way to high-temperature disputes. The Aries Lamb should resist being pulled into heated quarrels that could really singe your wool.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Satisfy that practical obligation first, then feel free to indulge in your creative endeavors. Also, check for hidden or overlooked areas where repairs might be long overdue.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Home is still the Twins' major focus this week, but outside matters begin to take on added importance, especially those involving possible career moves. Stay alert for signs of change.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A travel plan might need to undergo some considerable adjustments because of unexpected changes. Keep an open mind and let the facts guide you on how you want to handle this.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Playing cat and mouse with a matter you've been avoiding wastes time, energy and, most importantly, an opportunity. Ask someone with experience to help you get started.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A shift in policy might not please you, but before you put up a "no go" wall of resistance, examine the circumstances. You might be pleasantly surprised at what you find.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Yesterday's critiques about your methods might have already evolved into today's praise for your achievements. Good for you. Now go on and continue to build on your credibility.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) An occasional temperamental flare-up might occur, as you continue to help get things back to normal. Stay with it. You should soon get some idea of where to take things next.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A negative reaction to what you believe was a well-deserved request might mean that you need to reconsider your position and make changes accordingly.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) There's always room for someone new at the Sea Goat's table. The someone new for this week could bring a message you've been waiting a long time to hear.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A pile-on of personal matters this week might seem too overwhelming to deal with, but handling them on a one-by-one basis could have you out from under it by the weekend.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A friend might need your good advice regarding a matter. Be supportive, but unless you can be absolutely sure you have all the facts, also be careful about any suggestions you're asked to offer.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a talent for bringing out the best in people, no doubt due to your inspiring work ethic and sensitive nature.

Most Common Cause Behind Teary Eyes Are Dry Eyes

DEAR DR. ROACH: I am a 74-year-old woman who loves to read the newspaper every morning. I have a problem that's not serious, just annoying. My eyes tear up frequently while I read, causing me to wipe them. After I'm done reading, the problem stops. I see my ophthalmologist every year and have my vision glasses updated as needed. I am not yet a candidate for cataract surgery. Could you enlighten me about a probable cause for this irritating problem? — A.H.G.

ANSWER: By all means, ask your ophthalmologist at your next visit, but the most common cause I see for watery, tearing eyes are ... dry eyes! This apparent paradox is caused by the fact that your eyes have three different fluids.

One of them, called meibum, is a long-lasting, oily material secreted by the meibomian glands, found around the edges of the eyelids near the eyelashes. This covers the eye and prevents fluid from evaporating quickly. Without this fluid, the lacrimal gland (near the temple above each eye) then has to make a lot of its watery secretions, which cause symptoms of tearing.

Most commonly, the meibomian glands get clogged up by secretions becoming dry. Gently cleansing the eyelash area with warm water and baby shampoo helps many people unclog these glands. Artificial tears lubricate the eye and will reduce the symptoms of watery eyes (and maybe some eye irritation, too, which you might not have mentioned).

DEAR DR. ROACH: I am about to undergo gallbladder removal due to recurring pain from gallbladder sludge. Should I be taking replacements for the bile salts that I will no longer be able to produce, and if so, what is the best type of replacement? — S.C.

ANSWER: Your liver makes bile salts, which are necessary for fat absorption. The gallbladder doesn't make them at all; it just stores the bile until you eat a meal, at which point the gallbladder contracts and the bile salts are released into the small intestine to help you digest fat. Most bile salts will be reabsorbed later at the end of the small intestine, recirculating them for reuse.

In people without a gallbladder, the liver itself will continuously release bile salts into the small intestine, rather than on an as-needed basis by the gallbladder. Sometimes, the ability of the terminal ileum (the part of the intestine where bile salts are reabsorbed) gets overwhelmed, and bile acids enter the colon, causing diarrhea.

This is very common in the first few weeks after gallbladder surgery, but the small intestine usually "learns" to absorb more bile salts. The colon also learns to live with bile salts, and the diarrhea mostly goes away. However, some people continue to have diarrhea after surgery, and medication to restrain bile salts (such as cholestyramine) can make a huge difference.

After surgery, avoiding a high-fat diet is prudent for a month or so to minimize the amount of bile needed.

Dr. Roach regrets that he is unable to answer individual questions, but will incorporate them in the column whenever possible. Readers may email questions to ToYourGoodHealth@med.cornell.edu.

THIS WEEK IN CORRUPTION

Oh snap election!

By Transparency International

On Sunday, people were closely watching the outcome of the presidential elections taking place in Guatemala and Ecuador – both unfolding amid a climate of tension and violence. These are more than just any elections; they are a test of the strength of democracy in the region.

In Guatemala, the former first lady Sandra Torres faces off against well-known anti-corruption campaigner, Bernardo Arévalo. Last month, the race got even more intense after a Guatemalan court ordered the suspension of Arévalo's political party, which triggered massive protests and unrest. He later denounced the police raid that followed, stating that it was an act of "political persecution".

Over in Ecuador, the situation is equally tumultuous.

The electoral campaign has been tainted by political violence. On 9 August, presidential candidate Fernando Villavicencio was corruption.

Corruption has taken centre stage in both countries and become a major concern for people in Guatemala and Ecuador. Despite pressure from civil society, the candidates' anti-corruption proposals are weak and often echo measures that have previously been proven to be ineffective and failed to bring substantial change.

Another significant concern is the diminishing civic space in both countries. Institutions are fragile, human rights guarantees are precarious and restrictions on freedom of expression, along with attacks on journalists and organisations exposing assassinated. While it is unclear who may ultimately be behind his murder, Villavicencio – a former investigative journalist – was known for denouncing major cases of corruption and for being outspoken about organised crime.

Earlier in the year, former president Guillermo Lasso dissolved the National Assembly to prevent an impeachment verdict. This led to an early election and, as a result, a shortened mandate for the next elected president – the winner of the eight running candidates will only be in power until May 2025. Experts say it's unlikely that, in such a short term, the new president will be able to sort out the country's increased violence, economic crisis and blatant corruption, have increased.

Regardless, the upcoming elections in Guatemala and Ecuador are a vital opportunity for people in these countries to have their voices heard. The first step is for governments to ensure that people exercise their right to vote in peace and guarantee the integrity of the elections in both countries. The outcome of these elections will also be key to preserve democratic institutions and to find ways to challenge the entrenched corruption in Ecuador and Guatemala.

HAITI: A PEACEFUL MULTINATIONAL

By Sir Ronald Sanders

(The writer is Antigua and Barbuda's Ambassador to the United States of America and the Organization of American States. He is also a Senior Fellow at the Institute of Commonwealth Studies, University of London and Massey College in the University of Toronto)

Haiti needs "to get its political and governance act together". That is among the important messages that UN Secretary General, António Guterres, delivered to the UN Security Council in a letter on August 14, 2023.

Guterres' letter was a response to the Security Council's request for proposals to tackle the security and humanitarian crises in Haiti.

While the Secretary General repeats his call made to the Security Council in July 2023 "to authorise the immediate deployment of a robust international security force" to help Haiti's police fight criminal gangs, the significance of this latest letter is the importance of settling the vexed issue of the country's governance.

Guterres emphasized that "Without a meaningful reform of the political system, Haiti will continue to face these cycles of crises and instability emanating from weak political representation and disenfranchisement, a political climate, and fragile and politicized state institutions".

Failed and corrupt governance has been at the root of Haiti's poverty, economic backwardness, and inadequate physical and social infrastructure.

From these circumstances gangs were formed, first as tools of rival politicians and business oligarchs, and then as a force to take advantage of a situation of totally collapsed governance structures and systems.

Haiti has no legislature; its Court system is utterly dysfunctional; and many of Haiti's political parties and civil society organizations have declared no confidence in the self-appointed government of Haiti which has shown no inclination to establish a transitional government that genuinely shares power and represents a broad cross section of the society.

The situation in Haiti is dire, and the people of Haiti deserve to be liberated from the persistent deprivation and suffering that they are forced to endure. But the proposed "deployment of a specialized multinational force enabled by military assets, coordinated with the national police", should be at the request of an agreed transitional government if it is to enjoy popular backing.

As the organization, Human Rights Watch, observed: "The Haitian government has failed to protect people from the violence of these criminal groups, many of which have alleged ties with senior political officials, economic actors, and police officers. International security support may be required, but it will most likely only be effective with a new transitional government and as part of a multi-faceted response with strong human rights safeguards".

Such a transitional government is necessary, bearing in mind that many Haitian organizations believe that any successful external force would end up, intentionally or otherwise, maintaining the present unelected government of Dr. Ariel Henry.

If success means getting rid of gangs by "active use of force in targeted police operations against heavily armed gangs", as Secretary General Guterres described it, then what is really meant is war against the gangs that are now entrenched throughout Haiti.

Such a war would not result in casualties only among gang leaders and members. It would also include fatalities among communities, which are used as protective shields in any resistance to "active use of force". The deaths of combatants from any multinational force could also be considerable.

The governments of the Bahamas and Jamaica have understandably offered to join an external force. Both countries face challenges from Haitians seeking refuge, leading to substantial expenditures on border protection, repatriation efforts, and containment. This direct impact underscores their vested interest in Haiti's stabilization.

The governments of Canada and the United States, arguably having a similar vested interest, have yet to express intentions to contribute police or soldiers. Instead, they encourage countries in Africa and Latin America and the Caribbean to do so, providing logistical support and finance for operations.

Apart from The Bahamas and Jamaica, no government has made a formal decision to commit troops. Even Kenya is awaiting a study before declaring its position.

To some extent, reluctance stems from the fact that this would not be a "peace keeping force", operating with a mandate from the UN Security Council. Instead, it would be force made up from willing countries, undertaking the "recapture of areas under gang control".

Such a mission is easier said than done. The gangs were already well armed, violent and accustomed to confrontation and killing before the much-publicized discussions, concerning the deployment of a multinational force. Some of the gangs are linked to organized criminal enterprises and they would have been fortified with more powerful weaponry than they already possessed.

Guterres pointed out to the Security Council that the "gangs have become more structured, federated and autonomous [-] consolidating control over the population". The gangs also have a vested interest in preserving themselves and the criminal activity from which they derive money and power; they will not slink away with their tails between their legs. They will fight, viciously.

The argument has been advanced that, integral to stability in Haiti, are general elections at which voters will elect the president of the country and representatives to the legislature and municipalities. The argument continues that to mount such elections requires Haiti to be secure. Therefore, getting rid of the gangs and establishing a functional police force are compulsory.

But even if a multinational force is constructed and it entered Haiti at the request of the unelected Prime Minister, Dr Ariel Henry, eliminating gangs after a bloody confrontation, the fundamental issue of Haiti's governance would remain.

Elections, organised only by Dr Henry's government, would not satisfy any - other than his own political party - that such elections would be organized, administered and conducted to produce free and fair results, particularly if they come after a period of violent conflict. The existing disaffection and hostility would explode into protests and demonstrations.

Given all this, Haiti might now best be served by a multinational team of negotiators and facilitators made up of persons from countries with leverage and others that enjoy goodwill of Haitian players. Such a team could work with the various parties in Haiti to establish a transitional government that would have the authority to interface with, and make credible requests of, the international community, including for clearly defined police assistance.

The team might also begin to explore with the main gang leaders the terms of dismantling their organisations and laying down their weapons with the aim of preventing widespread violence and bloodshed.
